

Kathryn "Katie"- September 2004

Meet Katie! This young lady enjoys electronic gadgets, excels at reading above her age level, drawing, and playing Minecraft. Katie loves Science Fiction novels and movies. She is hoping to find someone who can love and accept her, while helping her to maintain connections with her family whom she continues to maintain contact with. She does well with a daily routine including her medical needs. She would love someone who can help her with her Math skills. She does very well in school, while having a higher reading comprehension level than her age. Katie hopes to find a family that loves and supports her.
