

William
DOB: October 1999

Ask William any question related to sports, music, or video games and he can probably give you the answer! He loves sports, especially watching and playing football. He is a polished video game player and enjoys this on his free time. William is a handsome young man with a great smile and a humorous personality! He loves to tell jokes and make people laugh.

William has made progress in treatment and he will need a family that can continue his need for lifelong services and be an advocate for his educational needs. William is a loving boy who can be very caring, but struggles with impulse control and frustration. William will do great with the right family that can provide a lot of structure, patience, consistency, and positive rewards.

William has a lot of love to give and loves being around others. He is close to his siblings and birth mother, so it would be important he maintain contact with them after adoption. He has a great outlook on life and is excited to find his forever family.
