

Zander

DOB: December 2012

Zander is a happy and energetic young man. He makes friends easily, is respectful, and cares about those around him. Zander enjoys playing video games, riding his bicycle and scooter, building Lego sets, fishing, swimming, and playing outside. He loves music. He has his own style preferences and doesn't let the opinion of others sway his choices. Zander is not a fan of homework, Hamburger Helper, or people arguing. Zander wrestled and played football in the past and enjoyed it. He would like to play tackle football again.

Zander likes to have fun and be outdoors. Zander does chores and would like to get a job doing lawns to earn money.

Zander would like to be able to travel, go on cruises, and would be happy having animals in the home. Zander is very flexible when thinking about the family he would like to have. He would do well in a home with structure and consistency, an active trauma-informed family who are patient and kind, will enroll him in activities, and will maintain contact with his siblings.
