Funds are based on federal award determinations made by the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention to DCFS. A portion of these funds shall be available for competitive bids annually. No in-kind or cash match is required to receive Title II funds.

Evidence based programs or practices can come from many valid sources (e.g., Blueprints for Violence Prevention, OJJDP's Model Programs Guide). Evidence based practices may also include practices adopted by agencies, organizations or staff which are generally recognized as "best practice" based on research literature and/or the degree to which the practice is based on a clear, well-articulated theory or conceptual framework for delinquency or victimization prevention and/or intervention.
- B. Formula Grant Program/Program Areas: The Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention's (OJJDP's) Formula Grants program supports efforts related to delinquency prevention and reduction, juvenile justice system improvement, research, evaluation, statistical analysis, and training and technical assistance in all 50 States, the District of Columbia, and the 5 U.S. territories. The Formula Grant includes 32 program areas that are available for funding. These services include job training, mental health and substance abuse treatment, community service and other forms of restitution, and school programs to prevent truancy. The Formula Grants program also provides funds to enhance the effectiveness and efficiency of the juvenile justice system.
- C. Juvenile Justice Oversight Commission (JJOC): Designated as the "Commission". The Commission acts as the state advisory group for the purposes of compliance with laws with all members appointed by the Governor per Nevada Revised Statute (NRS) 62B.600.
- D. Title II Formula Grant: Formula grants are funding programs usually administered and managed by State Administering Agencies. Exactly how funds are distributed is most often governed by statutes or congressional appropriations acts that specify which factors are used to determine eligibility, how the funds shall be allocated among eligible recipients, as well as the method by which an applicant shall demonstrate its eligibility for that funding.
